Kids That Fly is an alternative pop rock band that formed out of the University of Connecticut in the fall of 2018.

Their music is inspired by contemporary alternative rock, citing acts such as The 1975, Weezer, and The Black Keys as some of their main influences.

The four-piece act never fails to draw in a crowd with their tastefully catchy songs, and electrifying energy during shows. Kids That Fly has proved their vast potential and is truly an act to watch.
